

Dame Sara Thornton DBE QPM

Independent Anti-Slavery Commissioner 5th Floor, Globe House 89 Eccleston Square London, SW1V 1PN

Tel: +44 (0) 20 3513 0477

Email: shelley.perera@iasc.independent.gov.uk

13 October 2020

Clive Grunshaw
Lancashire Police and Crime Commissioner
The Office of the Police and Crime Commissioner for Lancashire
County Hall
Preston
PR1 OLD

Dear Clive,

As Independent Anti-Slavery Commissioner, I am writing in connection with my statutory responsibility to encourage good practice in the prevention, detection, investigation and prosecution of modern slavery offences and the identification of victims. My office comprises of a small team with policy leads aligned to each of the priorities set out within my Strategic Plan 2019-2021: improving victim care and support; supporting law enforcement and prosecutions; focusing on prevention; getting value out of research and innovation; as well as a policy lead for international activity. In September 2020 I published my Annual Report outlining my work so far to achieve the objectives within my Strategic Plan 2019-2021.

I was pleased to see the announcement<sup>1</sup> in late 2019 regarding the significant government investment to provide Police and Crime Commissioners in eighteen areas across England and Wales with additional funding for two years to tackle violent crime. I understand that this funding is being used to bring together multi-agency partners including the police, local authorities, the health sector, community groups and third sector organisations to establish or build upon existing Violence Reduction Units (VRUs) to better understand what is driving violent crime and deliver co-ordinated initiatives that focus on prevention and early intervention.

Earlier this year I began working with Public Health England and other key stakeholders to explore a public health approach to modern slavery<sup>2</sup>, therefore am supportive of examining the evidence base and thinking about the root causes of complex societal issues to inform the way that whole system approaches can be used to prevent harm.

Given the considerable overlap between modern slavery, exploitation and serious violence, I am keen to understand more about the strategic priorities and the intervention activity being delivered by the VRUs across England and Wales. Having reviewed the Violence Reduction Units in Focus report<sup>3</sup> recently published by the Association of Police and Crime Commissioners, I was interested to read about how the Lancashire Violence Reduction Network is supporting work to develop trauma informed schools. Your website is very comprehensive and it was helpful to review your Progress Report for 2019-20 which also outlined some of your key initiatives including the Lancashire Divert Programme and work through the Engage team to protect children and young people from the risks of criminal exploitation. I was really encouraged to see the outcomes framework for your VRN on your website demonstrating a welcome focus on outcomes from the outset of the programme.

&lt;sup>1</sup> Home Office (2019) Funding for Violence Reduction Units announced

&lt;sup>2</sup> Independent Anti-Slavery Commissioner (2020) IASC Blog: A public health approach to modern slavery

&lt;sup>3</sup> Association of Police and Crime Commissioners (2020) PCCs making a difference: Violence Reduction Units in focus

If you have any further updates that would be relevant to share with my office please contact my Victims and Partnerships lead, April McCoig at April.McCoig@iasc.independent.gov.uk.

Finally, I have recently published two reviews which may be of interest to you in relation to modern slavery and exploitation. The first is a report of findings<sup>4</sup> from my call for evidence on use of the Modern Slavery Act 2015 Section 45 Statutory Defence which identified gaps in the safeguarding response for young people who had been criminally exploited. The second is a joint review produced in collaboration with ECPAT UK to identify what works in multi-agency decision making and the implications for child victims of trafficking<sup>5</sup> to inform the development of a pilot to trial devolved National Referral Mechanism (NRM) decision making for children.

I look forward to receiving your response. In the interests of transparency, I request that you respond in a way that enables me to publish your letter on my website.

Yours sincerely,

Independent Anti-Slavery Commissioner

&lt;sup>4</sup> Independent Anti-Slavery Commissioner (2020) The Modern Slavery Act (2015) Statutory Defence: A call for evidence

&lt;sup>5</sup> Independent Anti-Slavery Commissioner and ECPAT UK (2020) A review of what works in multi-agency decision making and the implications for child victims of trafficking